

GREG BENNICK

EDGE Keynote Speaker and Entertainer

Greg Bennick is a unique keynote speaker. An entertainer and educator in one, he is a humanitarian activist, a multi-award winning film producer, and an acclaimed expert in the human experience. Greg creates a visual display of words and action every time he takes the stage. He blends ideas and entertainment into a dynamic presentation that inspires laughter and transformation and with laughter comes the retention of information which will increase the effectiveness of your employees.

Greg makes people laugh while inviting them to think and move to new levels of engagement and impact. He speaks about getting involved in ideas, leadership, and creativity, and does so using the models offered in the EDGE Increasing Human Effectiveness and RESPECT: The Source of Our Strength programs. This is outstanding entertainment fueled by a strong message, and Greg will work with you to customize his presentation for maximum impact on your event and your team.

Greg speaks from experience. He has laughed with and transformed audiences for Fortune 500 companies, major universities, and countless other audiences worldwide. When the Boeing Corporation rolled out their new 777 airplane in Seattle, Greg Bennick was the headlining presenter at their gala dinner. When United Way of America needed an early morning keynote for their national roundtable meeting in Los Angeles, Greg used his blend of ideas and images to inspire the audience. Bank of America called on Greg to speak at a series of events in every major city in the U.S., each with attendees numbering from four to seven thousand.

Greg believes that what the audience takes away from his presentation is what matters most. Did the audience learn something valuable? Did they have fun? Are they inspired to expand their comfort zones? Have they experienced change and transformation? Greg's keynotes ensure that they do.

Greg's presentation is perfect as a kick-off for an EDGE seminar at your organization or as a stand-alone event. His calendar fills quickly due to high demand so we suggest that you contact our office soon to confirm your event.

About EDGE

EDGE Learning Institute, with its consulting arm, EDGE Global Advisors, is a business management and human resource consulting firm with corporate headquarters in Tacoma, Washington and offices across North America. Over the past 37 years, EDGE has partnered with organizations and leaders around the globe to build business cultures that engage people and achieve breakthrough results.

EDGE's mission is to equip and build capacity through Talent Management-focused consulting services that provide relevant and timely resources for emerging companies. EDGE's commitment to excellence supports a focused and intentional investment in the people and systems of these organizations which ultimately leads to community impact and social change.

Real Change • Real Results • Real Impact!